

Medical Nutrition Therapy for Prevention (MNT4P) Open Enrollment for 2021 Health Insurance November 1 to December 15, 2020

Do you need help choosing an insurance plan for better medical food (formula) coverage?
Are you currently uninsured? Contact MNT4P for Health Insurance Open Enrollment guidance.

MNT4P Services offered:

- Complete support in choosing an appropriate health insurance plan for your unique needs during the annual open enrollment period.
- Complimentary one-on-one phone consultation with MNT4P's insurance navigator.
- Explore health care insurance plan options if you are currently uninsured or want to switch to a health insurance plan with better medical food coverage.
- Tips and Tricks:* Self-advocate with your employer for better insurance coverage.

This service is complimentary and of no charge to the patients and families enrolled in the MNT4P program.

Click here to contact us!

To avoid delays in healthcare coverage, do not wait until the last minute to request additional guidance from MNT4P during Open Enrollment.

Rani Singh, PhD RD, LD
Director, Research & MNT4P Program
Department of Human Genetics
Emory University

Saran Gurung
MNT4P Program Project Manager
Department of Human Genetics
Emory University

MNT4P is an Emory University, grant supported program for patients and families with Inherited Metabolic Disorders. This program is supported by the Georgia Department of Public Health, Award # 38206, private donations and other grants.